Beaufort Road, Newport, NP19 7UB

Anti-Bullying Policy

St Julian's Primary School is committed to ensuring that all learners have a life free from abuse and harm, including bullying. Every pupil has the right to work and learn in an environment where they feel safe, supported and free from fear.

Aims of Policy

To make sure that pupils clearly understand what is meant by 'bullying'

To enable pupils to understand that bullying is not acceptable and will not be tolerated

To encourage children to tell their teacher, friend, Pupil Voice or School Council member and parents straight away

To promote a non-aggressive ethos in the school

To encourage positive parental involvement in helping to eliminate bullying

To have clear procedures for reporting bullying.

There is no legal definition of bullying. Within our school, bullying is defined as:

“Behaviour by an individual or group, usually repeated over time, that intentionally hurts others either physically or emotionally.”

Underpinning this definition are behaviours, which result in individuals or groups feeling unsafe. Bullying behaviour usually has the following four features:

- o It is usually repetitive and persistent
- o It is intentionally harmful
- o It involves an imbalance of power, leaving someone feeling helpless to prevent it or put a stop to it
- o It causes feelings of distress, fear, loneliness and lack of confidence in those who are at the receiving end.

Objectives

In order to fulfil our anti-bullying vision, our school:

1. Has appointed a lead professional with responsibility for managing a strategic approach to anti-bullying. The lead professional for anti-bullying is Mrs K. Hollings.
2. Ensures that the whole community including parents, learners and staff understand what bullying is.
3. Reinforces the anti-bullying message with the whole staff community through regular general and specific training, staff meetings and information communication.
4. Equips learners with strategies, which enable them to respond to bullying behaviour.
5. Reinforces the anti-bullying ethos with learners, specifically through social and emotional aspects of learning (SEAL), Personal Social Education (PSE), assemblies; and in general through the curriculum, using projects, drama, stories, literature, historical events, current affairs, debates and daily interactions between staff and learners.
6. Uses the school website to share the school anti-bullying policy and the Welsh Government Rights, respect, equality guidance for parents and children.
7. Reinforces the anti-bullying message with parents through formal and informal parental communications.
8. Collates listens to and records details of learner opinions on incidents of prejudice, discrimination, harassment and bullying, in order to improve school policy and procedures.
9. Ensures that parents, staff and learners are aware of the procedures to follow if they are the target of bullying or if they feel that they might be behaving in bullying ways.

10. Ensures that parents, staff and learners understand the signs of bullying.
11. Provides support to those who are the targets of bullying and those who are perpetrating bullying behaviour.
12. Provides peer listeners in school to support those who are the targets of bullying.
13. Provides restorative justice conferences, facilitated by school staff and the Newport Council Behaviour Support Service.
14. Ensures that all learners understand the school's behaviour policy.
15. Ensures that all learners understand the school's consequences for behaviour that is harmful to others.

St Julian's Primary School does not tolerate any form of bullying.

- It is up to everyone in the community to stop bullying by making it unacceptable for anybody to bully another person.
- Bullying can take a wide range of forms. Bullying is behaviour/words towards another person that is meant to hurt them or embarrass them. The behaviour can involve individual or group behaviour. All bullying behaviour should be reported and recorded, whether perceived or actual. We will listen to, investigate and respond to all reports of bullying.

Some of the different types of bullying recognised by the school include:

- Emotional (being unfriendly, threatening looks/gestures, tormenting such as hiding belongings)
- Physical (pushing, hitting, shoving or any form of physical violence)
- Verbal (name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours)
- Cyber (all forms of abuse involving the internet, social websites, chat rooms, mobile phones, email, text messages, photographs etc)
- Exclusion (deliberately ignoring and refusing to allow someone to join in)
- Interference with possessions (hiding, stealing and destroying belongings)

Some of the reasons why people may be bullied include:

- Sex-based bullying, which includes unwanted physical contact, sexually abusive or sexist comments
- Racially motivated bullying
- Faith-based bullying
- Cultural differences
- Special educational needs and/ or disability
- Homophobia. (Research shows that learners may also experience homophobic bullying related to gender stereotyping, e.g. sensitive boys, academic boys, sporty girls, boisterous girls.)
- Appearance
- Personal Hygiene
- Academic ability including more able and talented or learning difficulties
- Perceived wealth or poverty

Bullying behaviours may include emotional, physical, verbal, sexual, cyber, exclusion, interference with possessions. This behaviour is considered acceptable by the perpetrator due to the target's perceived differences and their perceived lack of power within the majority community.

Equality Act 2010

Bullying related to the protected characteristics referenced in The Equality Act 2010 (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage/civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion and belief, sex and sexual orientation, Welsh Language) will be addressed in the same way as other forms of bullying. However, it will be considered and investigated in the context of the school's commitment to promoting an environment where all community members are respected, valued and celebrated equally. This aspect of the anti-bullying policy has a direct link to the school's Equality Policy and Equality Action Plan. All prejudice related incidents will be recorded and reported electronically through the SIMS Behaviour Management system.

Cyberbullying

Cyberbullying is defined within this policy as the use of information and communication technology (ICT), particularly mobile phones and the internet to deliberately upset or harm someone else. Cyberbullying is different to other forms of bullying. In cyberbullying, the audience for the bullying can be very large and reached rapidly. This means that the degree and seriousness, as well as the possible risks and repercussions, can be harder to control and curtail.

Cyberbullying can take many forms such as:

Threats and intimidation

Harassment or stalking

Vilification and defamation

Peer rejection and exclusion

Identity theft

Unauthorised access and impersonation

Publicly posting, sending or forwarding personal or private information or images

Manipulation

Blackmail

The reasons why people may be a target of cyberbullying are the same as the reasons for other types of bullying (noted above), for example for reasons related to their sex, sexual identity or race, their appearance or their personal hygiene.

The following technologies may be used as vehicles for cyberbullying:

Mobile phones

Instant messenger and Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP)

Chat Rooms and message boards

E-mail

Webcams

Social network sites

Video-hosting sites

Virtual learning environments (VLEs)

Gaming sites, consoles and virtual worlds

The school recognises that in the case of cyberbullying, the target and perpetrator may not be on the school premises when the incident occurs. The school recognises that it has a responsibility to educate pupils about cyberbullying and the effects it can have on wellbeing. Where incidents of cyberbullying occur outside school, the school has limited powers to investigate and collect evidence in order to address the situation; however, where possible, we will do our best to support victims of cyberbullying and will liaise with Gwent Police.

It is recognised that 'bystanders' can easily become perpetrators – by passing on or showing to others images designed to humiliate, for example, or by taking part in online polls or discussions, sharing images. Learners, parents and staff should also refer to the School's I.T. policy for further information and details on how cyberbullying is discouraged.

Signs of bullying

Bullying can cause serious psychological damage. A learner who is experiencing bullying may display some of the following signs:

- Becomes frightened of going to school, frightened to attend specific lessons or going to specific areas of the school
- Makes changes to their usual routine
- Becomes more quiet, withdrawn or anxious than previously
- Begins stammering
- Threatens to run away or runs away
- Self-harms
- Threatens suicide
- Begins to perform poorly at school
- Frequently has missing or damaged possessions
- Is always asking for extra money or never has money
- Has unexplained injuries
- Becomes aggressive, disruptive or unreasonable
- Begins to bully siblings or peers
- Stops eating or attending meals
- Is afraid to use the internet or a mobile phone
- Becomes nervous when a cyber-message is received
- Appears more tired than usual (due to sleep disturbance, including bed-wetting)
- Appears anxious and suffers from low self-esteem
- Is reluctant to go out into the playground/yard
- Is reluctant to use toilet facilities
- Is reluctant to discuss the reasons for any of the above

Learner's guide on how to respond if you are being bullied

If you are being bullied, the following responses should help:

1. Explain to the perpetrator that the words/actions are upsetting; he or she may not be aware of this. However, if the bullying continues try not to show your feelings.
2. If you are with friends, ask them to stay with you.
3. Walk away quickly and confidently, even if you don't feel that way inside.
4. The perpetrator will not stop if they think they can get away with such behaviour. Discuss the problem with your friends.
5. Tell a member of staff or ask your friends to tell a member of staff on your behalf. Tell a member of the School Council.
6. Know that we are all unique, like everyone else. Remember that the diversity within our school community and within Newport is important and valued.

Learner's guide to how to respond if you think someone is being bullied and how to prevent bullying

1. If the learner being bullied is in danger, fetch help. If there is no danger, your presence may ease the situation so remain together.
2. Give sympathy and support to learner/s who you think is/are being bullied.
3. Be careful about teasing or making personal remarks. If you think individuals might not find your comments funny don't say them.
4. If you know of bullying, tell someone. The target may be too scared or lonely to tell.

Cyberbullying

Remember it is helpful if allegations of bullying are supported with evidence. If bullying occurs via social networking sites or mobile technologies, take screenshots. Copies should be printed and given to a member of staff. Parents, pupils, staff should not forward any information electronically.

Parents' guide to bullying behaviours

Whenever there is a case of bullying the parents/guardians of both the target and the perpetrator will be informed either in writing or by personal contact.

If your child is being bullied

Parents along with peers will probably be the first to hear of a bullying incident. Parents should contact their child's class teacher, Phase Leader or Deputy Headteacher if they are worried. It is essential to stay calm, supportive and find out the facts of the situation; bullying can be complex to understand as it is possible that the parties involved will have varying perceptions of the events under investigation. Reassurance will be needed in order to persuade your child that they have done the right thing by telling you. You may find it helpful to have the following checklist at your side to ensure that you provide helpful information.

- Who was involved?
- Where did it take place, when and how often?
- Why did it take place?
- What form did the bullying take?

When you inform the school of these details, the member of staff will explain how the school will proceed; this will normally begin with an investigation into the allegations (see below for details). Be reassured that the school will respond sensitively to the needs of all the learners involved. All information will be considered and investigated thoroughly.

You may be able to help. Ask what you can do to support the school's actions to support your child. It is helpful to make a note of the actions the school intends to take and any strategies the school suggests will be helpful for you to implement to support your child. Stay in touch with the school and inform the school of how things are going. Contact the school as soon as possible if further incidents occur.

Ensure you keep records of all incidents your child shares. (Who?, Where?, When?, Why?, What form of bullying behaviour?). This helps to track events should the bullying behaviour continue.

If your child is involved in the bullying

It is very upsetting when your child is involved in bullying behaviour. Do not panic or blame yourself. It is important to work with the school to modify your child's patterns of behaviour. Acknowledge that these things do happen and the school has mechanisms in place to respond to this issue. It is helpful to recognise some of the reasons why learners behave in this way from time to time. Children sometimes bully others because:

- They are not aware of how hurtful it is
- They are copying the behaviour of peers, older siblings or people they admire
- They have a temporary difficulty integrating within their peer group
- They are bullying others because of encouragement from friends
- They are going through a difficult time personally and need help
- They have not yet learnt satisfactory ways for making firm relationships

To stop your child from being involved in bullying behaviour:

- Talk with your child and help them to understand that what they are doing is unacceptable as it makes other learners unhappy
- Discourage other members of the family from using aggressive behaviour in order to get what they want
- Suggest ways of joining in activities with other learners without being hurtful or unkind;
- Liaise with the school
- Make time to have regular chats about how things are going at school
- Check that your child has identified an adult at school to whom they can go if they have a problem or a worry of any kind. They need to have a good relationship with this person.

Please note that the school will need to take action if bullying behaviour occurs. The matter will be responded to sensitively, but it needs to be effective for all those involved. Consequences will link with those outlined in the School's Behaviour policy. Where identified adjustments need to be made for learners with additional needs, the Additional Learning Needs Coordinator (Additional Learning Needs Coordinator (ALNCO)) will be involved in decision making.

Prevention of Bullying

The school aims to prevent bullying from becoming established. This is achieved by establishing a culture in which bullying is not tolerated and where it is seen as the responsibility of all members of the school community to report any instances of inappropriate behaviour and/or bullying.

- School Council/Student Senedd provides a forum where children and young people can raise general issues of concern.
- Children can post any worries or concerns in the class worry box.
- The curriculum is used as a vital means of teaching children and young people how to manage these feelings and specific issues are addressed in Wellbeing sessions, Assemblies and curriculum time.
- The school-based counselling service, peer support, Emotional Literacy Support (ELSA) and restorative approaches exist to support individuals in need.
- Staff within the school respond to all incidents of unkind words and behaviour in a restorative manner. We regard this as an important prevention strategy.

Procedures for investigating a case of suspected bullying

Bullying events are identified in several ways:

- Disclosure to a member of staff by the individual being bullied
- Disclosure to another learner by the individual being bullied
- Witnesses to specific bullying events
- Suspicion of bullying based upon the indicators listed above.
- An allegation of bullying will be taken seriously. It will be investigated thoroughly. Clear procedures will be followed to stop the bullying. All learners will be supported if they have been bullied. Regular check-ins will ensure the bullying has stopped.

All members of staff have a duty to respond straight away if they suspect, or are made aware of prejudice related behaviour and/or bullying in line with the school's equality policy. It may be possible for the staff involved to carry out an initial investigation; however, the preferred route is for staff to make a note of the date, time and nature of the incident and pass the evidence on to named staff for investigation. This will involve a senior member of staff with pastoral responsibility.

An investigation of bullying will take time. You will be kept informed throughout the process. The member of staff investigating will take the following steps:

- Target(s), perpetrator(s) and witness(es) will be interviewed by the member of staff investigating. All parties will be reassured of the discretion of the school in dealing with such matters within the limits of our confidentiality policy. The target(s) will be reassured that the matter is being treated seriously and being investigated.
- If the target reports the matter, they will be spoken with first. If not, any witnesses will be interviewed, followed by the accused perpetrator and finally any bystanders.
- All learners involved in the situation will be listened to without comment upon the nature of the behaviour described.
- A written summary of all discussions will be made. This summary will be agreed by the individuals involved. This is important as it will enable the target and witnesses to feel reassured that action is being taken, and for the accused party to feel that they have had a fair hearing.
- A problem-solving approach, which avoids blame, will be more effective in clarifying the situation and achieving change. In St. Julian's Primary School Restorative strategies are used in conjunction with Positive Behavior Management to solve problems and rectify issues.
- All prejudice related incidents and bullying and bullying incidents related to SEN, appearance and personal hygiene will be recorded and reported using the SIMS behaviour management system.

Action by the school

If it is felt that bullying has taken place, the target will be informed that action will be taken to prevent bullying from continuing. Consequences will be implemented in line with the School's Behaviour Policy.

Where appropriate, the school will make every effort to respond to incidents of bullying that take place outside of the immediate authority of the school. The perpetrator needs to understand the effects of their actions upon the target and will be given support in order to modify their behaviour including ELSA or counselling if appropriate. If the bullying behaviour continues, there are a number of possible sanctions available to the school. These may include:

- A verbal warning, recorded in the perpetrator's file
- A letter of apology to the target, with a copy, kept on file. This letter can be scribed if appropriate. (A verbal apology is appropriate for children at Foundation Phase.)
- Referral to the Headteacher in the case of persistent or severe bullying. Cases of persistent and severe bullying may result in school exclusion procedures being implemented.

The target of the bullying will receive support from the school ELSA, counsellor or other supportive adults as required, and their recovery will be closely monitored by a nominated adult who works in partnership with the target's parents.

Partnership with Parents

Whenever there is a serious case of bullying the parents/guardian of both the target and the perpetrator will be informed in writing or by personal contact. This contact will be carried out by a member of the senior leadership team.

Follow Up

Learner follow-up check-ins will take place periodically to ensure the bullying behaviour has stopped and that the learner feels safe. If there are any further incidents, the appropriate senior leader will be informed immediately and appropriate action in line with the school behaviour policy will be implemented. Where identified adjustments need to be made for learners with additional needs, the Additional Learning Needs Coordinator (Additional Learning Needs Coordinator (ALNCO)) will be involved in decision making.

Should we receive a new learner to our school, we will discuss with parents/carers the reasons why the child has moved from their previous school. If parents/carers provide information that suggests that the learner has experienced bullying we will monitor the learner in order to determine their emotional needs. We will support the learner through ELSA/school-based counselling should they need support

Recording Incidents of discrimination and/or bullying and analysing the information

The Headteacher will maintain an electronic record of incidents of discrimination and bullying and will prepare internal reports in order to analyse any specific patterns or trends. This information will inform in-school strategic planning and partnership work where appropriate.

The Headteacher will forward termly reports to the Local Authority in order for the Local Authority to analyse any specific trends at school and local level. Local Authority patterns of behaviour will be shared with schools regularly in order that the school can respond appropriately to locally identified needs.
